

Frequently asked questions about online applications:

Is there a limit to the number of positions I can apply for at any given time?

- No. You are welcome to apply for as many positions as you would like.

If I apply for a position, will I automatically receive an interview?

- Due to the volume of applications we receive for each search, not all applicants are interviewed. Interview selection is based on the position requirements, experience and preferred qualifications, specialization of skills and other factors. All applications will be reviewed for minimum qualifications.
- Applicants with incomplete packets will be disqualified.

How will I be notified if I am selected for an interview?

- Selected candidates are contacted by telephone or email to arrange an interview.

If I am not selected for an interview, will I be notified that the position has been filled?

- It is the KCCD's practice to communicate with candidates when a search has ended. Email notification or letters are mailed to all candidates who apply for a particular position. Applicants may also obtain search status by logging onto our Web site and going to the screen labeled "my application".
