

Renegade Roundup

Starting week six of Spring 2021

February 22, 2021

Dear Colleagues:

This last week, many of you reached out to me to better understand plans for Summer 2021 and Fall 2021. So I've decided to increase the frequency of my virtual seminars in order to highlight the best thinking across the campus as well as sharing information from the state and county, starting tomorrow. There is no single approach to planning for the upcoming semesters as we expand the scope of vaccinations happening in our community. We'll do what we always do at BC – start right away, bring our collective thinking to the table and come up with guidelines for the campus while providing flexibility for departments and individuals to address circumstances that are unique to them.

Our first seminar is tomorrow!

With that in mind, I invite you to tune in to the first seminar where we will hear from our VP of Instruction and three of our instructional areas – Child Development Center, Welding, and Culinary.

Our partnership with industry, research and policy leaders in energy technology is hosting its first webinar of 2021 on Wednesday, February 24 at 10 a.m.. The focus of the next Energy Technology Transfer and Workforce Development (ETT&WD) discussion will be on the nexus of energy, water, and food, reviewing the implications of future industrial and agricultural development for energy and water use in Kern County. Our featured speakers are Jordan Macknick of NREL, SJV Water CEO Lois Henry, and Concentric Power CEO Brian Curtis. Visit the conference page for more details and resources about the ETT&WD webinar, and visit the webinar registration link to view the discussion live. I want to thank Liz Rozell for her leadership with Energy TT&WD.

Stay safe, stay healthy, wear a mask, keep the 6 ft distance separation, and wash your hands to slow down the spread and reduce the strain on our healthcare systems and providers.

That's all for now.
Until next time.

With much Renegade Pride and Collegiality, sonya
