Good Jobs with Equity: The Future Workforce

April 14, 2022

Dear Colleagues,

The Kern Community College District is hosting a one-day summit on Tuesday, May 3 titled Good Jobs with Equity: The Future Workforce.

If you would like to sign up today contact your Vice President of Instruction or the Associate Vice Chancellor of Economic and Workforce Development who will coordinate the number of tables for each college.

We will have policy leaders and representatives from Washington, D.C. and Sacramento speaking during the day, as well as educational leaders and industry practitioners to present on future job opportunities in healthcare, renewable energy, and emerging technologies. We'll also be talking about the expansion of baccalaureate degrees at community colleges and its impact on workforce development.
